

Save the Date!

*The St. Francis International Center for Healthcare Ethics
Presents*

“The New Healthcare: Ethics and Economics”

Friday, August 13, 2010

Manoa Grand Ballroom
Honolulu, Hawaii
8:00 – 5:00 p.m.

Featured Presenters

Dov Chernichovsky, PhD

*Professor of Health Economics and Policy
Ben-Gurion University of the Negev
Beer-Sheva, Israel*

Bernard Lo, MD, FACP

*Professor of Medicine, and Director of Medical Ethics
University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine*

“Are there Ethical Issues under the New Healthcare?” and What are the “High Costs of Dying.” Physicians, hospital administrators, healthcare professionals, and anyone else connected to the healthcare industry with an interest of ethics will find this conference stimulating and relevant. Other lectures and panel discussions include “Using Behavioral Economics to Reduce Healthcare Costs,” “Medical Insurance: Fundamentals and Changes under the New Healthcare,” and “Telehealth: The Ethical Challenge of Technology.”

Early Bird registration is $95
General registration (received after July 16) is $125.

Contact: Katherine Korenaga
(808) 547-6052
kkorenaga@stfrancishawaii.org